EGGS, Dry Mix

For scrambled eggs, mix 1/2 cup egg mix with 1/2 cup water until creamy. Then add 3/4 cup more water and let stand 15 minutes. Cook as usual. Makes 2-4 servings. If desired, add 1/4 c. powdered milk and 1/4 tsp. salt to dry eggs before adding water. For crepes, increase water to 1 cup and add 1 cup flour sifted with 1 tsp. baking powder. Cook in medium hot buttered pan until golden.

ROLLED OATS

Use 2 cups water per cup of oats with 1/4 teaspoon salt. Bring water and salt to boil. Add oats and stir frequently for two minutes.

Granola

This recipe calls for lots of ingredients. As some of these items might be hard to find at times, you can consider all the items below the vanilla as optional. Make up the volume of what you don't have with extra rolled oats. However, it is much better with everything. This recipe can stand lots of substitutions.

* 10 cups rolled oats * 1 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed * 1 1/2 cup water
* 1 1/2 cup vegetable oil * 1/2 cup honey
* 1 1/2 teaspoon salt * 2 teaspoons cinnamon * 3 teaspoons vanilla

* 1 cup wheat germ * 1/2 lb. shredded coconut * 2 cups raw sunflower seed * 1 cup sesame seeds
* 3 cups chopped almonds, pecans, walnuts or a combination of all of them. * 1/2 cup molasses (If you are going to sub. here, add same amount of sugar or honey.) * Raisins, if desired

Mix dry ingredients. In another pan combine the brown sugar, water, oil, honey, molasses, salt, cinnamon, and vanilla. Heat until sugar is dissolved but do not boil. Pour syrup over the dry ingredients and stir until well coated. Place in pans or sheets. Bake 20-30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Bake 15 minutes longer if you want it crunchier. This keeps 6 months. Makes 20 cups.

Whole Wheat Pancakes

* 3 cups whole wheat flour or substitute one cup with white flour. * 2 to 3 tablespoons sugar
* 1/2 cup powdered milk
* 1 tablespoon baking powder * 1 teaspoon salt
* 1 egg or 1 tablespoon egg powder * 3 tablespoons oil

Mix dry ingredients. Add water and mix. Add egg and oil, mix well. Add a little water to make it the right consistency, then fry them up.

Note: The recipe needs the milk and sugar to help the pancakes brown up nicely.

Maple Syrup Recipe

This is about the easiest thing to fix there is, and makes good syrup to boot. Even I can do it!

* 1 cup water * 2 cups sugar * 1 or 2 teaspoons of Maple Extract

Pour sugar into a small pan. Slowly pour water on top. Turn stove on high. No need to stir. After mixture starts to boil, check to see if all the sugar granules are dissolved. If they aren't, boil it for another 15-20 seconds. Pull off heat and pour a bit of maple extract into it. It's ready for use. It also stores well in the cupboard. Don't put it in the refrigerator or it will start to re-crystallize.

Baked Oatmeal Breakfast Treat Recipe

This breakfast meal is a little different - somewhere between oatmeal and granola. But it's really good and easy to fix.

* 3 cups quick cooking oats * 1 cup packed brown sugar
* 2 teaspoons baking powder * 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon * 1 teaspoon salt
* 1 cup milk (can be reconstituted milk) * 1/2 cup melted margarine or butter
* 2 eggs, beaten (or equivalent powdered eggs and water)

Mix together and pour into a 9 inch square greased pan. Bake at 350 degrees F for 40-45 minutes.

Serve warm with milk.

Denise times the recipe by 1 1/2 for a 9 by 13 inch pan.

Fried Oatmeal Recipe

Leftover oatmeal? Try this, or when next you make oatmeal for breakfast make plenty of extra.

I put my oatmeal in a square freezer box to the depth of about 3 inches. Mash down. Freeze.

To use, take out of freezer and let it set on the counter for about 15 to 20 minutes until it is just firm enough to cut with a sharp knife or electric knife. Cut into slices, such as you would with SPAM, about 1/4 inch thick.

Lightly coat with flour. Spray skillet with PAM or equivalent. Lightly brown each side of the slice of oatmeal and allow to warm through. Don't walk away.

Serve with pancake syrup and powdered sugar or a spoonful of brown sugar or nuts sprinkled over top.

You can also do this with just refrigerating the oatmeal, but the freezer method gives nice firm slices. No electricity? In the frozen north, just set the oatmeal outside overnight and it'll freeze up. This recipe also works with leftover cornmeal mush.

Not so brave? Try putting a spoonful of leftover oatmeal into your next loaf of bread, it adds moisture.

Even less brave? Let it cool down and then let man's best friend eat your leftover oatmeal. They love it. Waste not, Want not!

Chocolate Pancakes Recipe

Ingredients:

* 2 cups baking mix - can be reduced fat * 1/3 cup dry powdered milk
* 2 T. cocoa powder
* 2 T. sugar
* 1/2 cup mini chocolate chips, substitute large chips or leave out, I've used nuts before.

To use entire mix, add 1 cup water and 2 eggs. To use only half, use 1 1/2 cups dry mix, 1/2 cup plus 2 T. water and 1 egg. If you are using dried eggs, add corresponding amount of water to reconstitute the egg product to equal 1 egg.

1/2 mix will make 12 small pancakes. Entire mix will make 24 small pancakes or 16-18 large pancakes.

Freeze well. Freeze in stacks of three - reheat in microwave for 1 minute 15 seconds. We particularly like these with Karo (white) syrup, but other syrups and jams will work as well. Occasionally we also sprinkle on powdered confectioner's sugar. Kids and lots of grown men like these! Try serving them as an option at your next men's pancake breakfast at church. You might want to identify them with a sign, as they do turn out rather dark in color.

I've done these using strawberry drink mix, like Nestle Quick's in place of the cocoa, and used the cherry flavored chips when I've had them. Try using a few tablespoons of pumpkin puree and nuts, or a zucchini quick bread batter, or a banana bread batter thinned to pouring consistency. I often use my blueberry muffin mix to make pancakes. Try something different in your cooking today. It's fun!

You can package the mix into zip lock baggies for storage or gifts, or use immediately by adding 1 cup water and 2 eggs. The dry mix will equal approx. 3 cups. I like this recipe as an inexpensive gift item to give to those working women on my gift list.

In a large mixing bowl, combine egg yolks, water, oil, and oats; beat slightly and allow to stand 5 minutes, then beat until blended. Mix in dry ingredients, then fold in beaten egg whites. For small pancakes, drop 2 Tbsp batter onto griddle, or pour 1/4 measuring cup full, if larger pancakes are desired.

Crunchy Wheat Cereal Makes approx. 5 cups cereal & 2 cups crumbs

* 1 1/2 cups brown sugar

* 2 cups buttermilk (2/3 cup powdered milk, 2 cups water, 2 Tbsp vinegar or lemon juice)

Mix ingredients thoroughly. Press or roll evenly to fit 2 ungreased cookie sheets. Bake at 350 deg until golden brown around the edges. Turn over with spatula, break into small pieces and return to 200 deg oven to dry out thoroughly. Grind chunks in food or meat chopper on coarse blade. Put ground chunks in strainer and sift out small granular pieces. Larger pieces may be used for cereal and casseroles. Finer pieces may be used as graham cracker crumbs for pie crusts and other desserts.

Variations: Add cinnamon to the dough before baking. Add nutmeg to give a custard or eggnog flavor. Poultry stuffing can be made by eliminating sugar and adding sage, poultry seasoning, celery salt and bouillon granules. Make salad toppers by adding garlic salt, onion powder, salt or other favorite condiments. You can even make dog and cat food by reducing sugar and adding bouillon, then breaking up to the appropriate size. -----

Add the cooked, drained ramen noodles and peas. Toss until coated. Turn onto plates and top with grated Parmesan cheese and parsley.

Gado-gado Spaghetti Recipe

Ingredients
1/2 pound spaghetti or ramen noodles
4 cups water
3 Tbsp plus 1 tsp oil
2 Tbsp sunflower seeds
1 Tbsp dried onion, rehydrated
1/2 Tbsp or one packet powdered bouillon base (see notes)
3 Tbsp brown sugar
1 tsp garlic
1/2 tsp black pepper (optional)
1/2 tsp hot sauce (optional)
1/2 tsp spike (optional)
3/4 cup water, or more as needed
3 Tbsp vinegar
3 Tbsp soy sauce
3 Tbsp peanut butter
Sliced green or wild onions, if available

Instructions

Notes: A spicy peanut butter sauce makes this a light spaghetti dish that is excellent either hot or cold. This dish can have a fairly salty taste. Cut back or eliminate the base if you are concerned about saltiness. This recipe is designed to be made in a camping or hiking environment, but work just as well at home. Break pasta in half and put into boiling unsalted water to which 1 tsp of oil has been added. Cook until done; drain immediately. In a fry pan, heat 3 Tbsp oil and add the sunflower seeds and rehydrated onions. Cook and stir over medium heat for 2 minutes. Add the base with the brown sugar, garlic, other spices if desired, and 3/4 cup water. Add the vinegar and soy sauce. Add peanut butter and stir. Do not burn! To eat this hot, heat the sauce thoroughly and pour over hot spaghetti. This recipe is best cold, and it loses some of its saltiness as it sits. Mix sauce and spaghetti, cool quickly, and serve chilled. If available, sliced green or wild onions as a garnish add to the flavor.

RICE MILK

- 4 cups hot/warm water
- 1 cup cooked rice (I've used white or brown)
- 1 tsp vanilla

Place all ingredients in a blender until smooth. Let the milk set for about 30 minutes, then without shaking pour the milk into another container (I use an old honey jar) leaving most of the sediment in the first container. This makes about 4 - 4 1/2 cups. Notes: When I have used cold water and the rice was taken out of the refrigerator, it just doesn't come out that well. I don't know why but its best to use warm water and warm rice (you can nuke it if its leftovers but freshly made is best) I have even let it set longer than 30 minutes (overnight) without it making a difference.

RICE MILK, PLAIN

A good way to make rice milk is to use fresh rice that is still hot.

1 cup rice, brown is okay, short grain is best.
4 cups hot water- cold water and cold rice won't work.
1 tsp vanilla

Put all in blender, puree for about 5 minutes (until smooth) let sit for 30 minutes or longer, then without shaking pour into container being careful not to let the sediments at the bottom pour into the new container. Alternatively, if you are in a hurry strain through cheesecloth.

Making Home Made Hominy

Hominy, simply, is hulled corn, whole, coarsly broken or ground into small pieces of about the same size. Sometimes hominy is called samp, especially when it is very coarse. Pearl hominy is whole grain hominy with the hulls removed by machinery. Lye hominy is whole grain hominy cooked in lye water. Granulated hominy is a ground form and hominy grits are broken grains. When I was a kid I had a girlfriend whose grandmother was a wonderful southern lady. They always had grits for breakfast, but they were served as a side dish to ham, eggs and biscuits, as a substitute for potatoes. Everyone eats them differently, but they are good with just butter and salt. Some people put their fried eggs on top, or homestyle gravy with biscuits and grits is another country type breakfast. The following recipe describes the lye method of removing the hulls.

- * 1 qt. dry field corn
- * 4 qt. water
- * 1 oz. lye

Place in an enameled kettle and boil vigorously for 1/2 hour, then let stand for 20 minutes. Rinse several times with hot water, then rinse with cool water until you can handle the hominy to rub off the dark tips of the kernels. Float away the tips. Add water to cover hominy one-inch and boil 5 minutes.

Drain and repeat 4 times, then cook 1/2 hour or until kernels are tender.

Pack in 6 sterilized pint jars; add 1/4 teaspoon salt to each jar. Cover with boiling water; adjust lids and process in pressure canner, 240 degrees at 10 pounds pressure, 60 minutes. (If using quart jars, process 70 minutes.) This recipe will yield 6 pints of hominy.

Lentil and Beans Dishes (34)

Baked Beans

Pinto, kidney, pink, or black, you can bake beans to your heart's delight and end up with some amazing results. Baked beans make the perfect (even de rigeur) picnic side dish and they are remarkably simple to make.

Don't confuse fresh beans, like lima or green beans with the dried varieties used for baking. Fresh beans are treated differently, and wouldn't work in most of the recipes you'll find here. Beans are members of the legume family, like peas, and they are an excellent source of protein, iron, and starch. They are also low in fat, which makes them an excellent source of low-fat, high-energy protein replacing high-fat meats and cheeses.

Dried beans come in a wide variety of shapes and sizes. They're a popular mainstay in many cuisines because they are inexpensive, last seemingly forever once they're dried, and taste delicious when they're cooked up. Baked beans recipes are common for side dishes as well as entrees; however you cook them, chances are your family will gobble them up, so it's a good idea to make a double batch!

Boston Baked Beans

Did you know the nickname for Boston is "Beantown?" That's because they are famous for their Boston Baked Beans. There's a reason for this super popularity – beans are simple to prepare, they're easily stored, and they cook up tasty with just the addition of a few items. They are plain, hearty, stick to the ribs fare that never goes out of style. A typical Saturday Night Supper in Boston and beyond contains a big pot of beans and Boston Brown Bread to top it off.

Boston Baked Bean recipes call for salt pork, bacon, molasses, and a bit of baking soda to cut down on the unpleasant after effects eating beans sometimes produce in the digestive tract. There's no scientific evidence baking soda stops these effects, but many cooks swear by the baking soda technique in all their bean recipes.

To Soak or Not to Soak

You can buy "pre-soaked" beans that do away with the need to soak your dried beans overnight, but many bean purists say they simply don't have the "bite" and consistency that traditionally soaked beans add to a recipe. For best results, soak the beans until they are double in size, about 10 to 12 hours. You can speed up this soaking process by blanching the beans in boiling water for about 1 1/2 minutes, and then soaking for two or three hours in cold water. Many people say that you don't have to presoak beans – just cook them slowly for 10 to 12 hours. For some bean varieties, this may work just fine, but other more tender varieties may tend to lose their skins if they are cooked this long.

Types of Dried Beans

* Black Beans – These beans are catching on in many North-of-the-Border eateries. Served whole, unlike their refried cousins, they have a meaty, rich texture and a thick black skin. These are not the same type as the fermented black beans used in Asian cooking. * Cannellini Bean (or white kidney bean) – These are some of the most popular in Italian cooking, especially soups and salads. They are also known as the minestrone bean.

* Cranberry Beans – If you're looking for an unusual and even beautiful bean, try the cranberry. Creamy white mottled with pinkish red, these are used in many Italian soups and stews. They have a nutty, unique taste. * Kidney Beans – Who doesn't know the humble kidney bean? Shaped like the organ it's named for, the kidney boasts a deep, mahogany skin, and a white, creamy interior. Traditionally they are the beans used in chili. They are also used in Louisiana's traditional red beans and rice. * Navy Beans (or small white beans) – These beauties are normally used in Boston Baked Beans. They are small, but pack a powerful taste. * Pink Bean (or chili bean) – These small, pink beans are also a common ingredient in chili with beans and frijoles. They are smaller and rounder than the pinto bean. * Pinto Beans – Pinto beans have a mottled skin with a white background and dark speckles over the surface. They are the most common bean used in the United States, and are the requisite ingredient for refried beans (frijoles).

Cream of Chicken Soup from Beans

Here's a way to make cream of chicken soup from beans. The kids love the stuff.

- * 1 Cup Navy Bean Flour (Lima beans or Garbanzo beans will also do the trick.)
- * 4 Cups Water or Milk
- * 1 Tablespoon Chicken Bouillon
- * 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- * 1/4 cup dehydrated onions or 1 small onion optional

Grind the dry beans in a wheat grinder. Usually, 3/4 cup of beans will make a cup of flour. Add the other dry ingredients to the bean flour. Stir 1/2 cup of water or milk into the bean flour until it is mixed then add the rest of the water or milk and heat it in a medium sized sauce pan, constantly stirring. As it reaches the boiling point it will thicken. Boil it for about a minute. If it gets too thick add a bit more water/milk until your soup thins down to what cream of chicken soup should be. If it lacks flavor, add a bit more chicken bouillon. Garnish with dry parsley flakes. Serves 4.

2. 6 cups water 1 onion, chopped 2 cups cooked ham, cubed, or shaved & finely chopped (approximately - more or less to your own preference) Chicken soup base (e.g.. OXO cubes or liquid - enough to give good flavor to the water in the pot) Add the additional water, onion, ham and soup base to the soup pot. Bring back to a boil, and simmer about 1 hour, or until peas are quite soft.

3. 3 tbsp butter 2 tbsp flour

Cook this sauce until it thickens, and then whisk it into the soup. Whisk the soup well, and cook it a couple of minutes more. (The whisking should result in the peas and onions becoming more or less pureed, which is what you want.)

Note: This soup is quite good, and makes a large quantity. For the ham, I used a small black forest ham, and cubed it into ½ inch pieces. The original Fanny Farmer recipe didn't call for ham, but used salt pork instead.

Everlasting Yeast

- * 1 quart warm potato water
- * 1/2 yeast cake or 1/2 Tbsp dry yeast
- * 1 tsp salt
- * 2 Tbsp sugar
- * 2 cups of white or whole wheat flour

Stir all ingredients together. Place mixture in a warm place to rise until ready to mix for baking. Leave a small amount of everlasting yeast for a start for next time.

Between uses, keep in a covered jar in refrigerator until a few hours before ready to use again.

Add same ingredients, except yeast, to the everlasting yeast start for the next baking. By keeping the everlasting yeast started and remaking some each time, yeast can be kept on hand indefinitely.

Whole Wheat Bread Recipe

This recipe makes 5 loaves. When cut in half, makes 3 loaves. (8 1/2 X 4 1/2 X 2 1/2.)

Use an electric mixer or knead by hand.

(Mix in bowl until flour is wet:)

- * 5 1/2 C hot tap water (140 degrees F)
- * 1/3 C honey
- * 5 C whole wheat flour
- * 1/2 C Gluten Flour

Add and mix for 15 seconds:

- * 3 T dry yeast

Add:

- * 2/3 C oil (olive or vegetable)
- * 3 T lemon juice or 50 mg. ascorbic acid (Vit. C)
- * 1 T salt

Continue adding flour (about 7 to 9 cups) until dough forms a ball and does not stick to sides or bottom of bowl. Knead with an electric bread mixer for 6 minutes or by hand about 10 minutes (300 kneadings).

With oil on your hands remove the dough from bowl and form into loaves. Before placing loaf size dough into pan, fold and pound with side of fist a few times to get air bubbles out and to make a tighter and more elastic-like loaf. Make a tight ball-shape loaf and put in center of greased bread pan then place in a 125 degree oven or let rise on countertop until double in bulk. Turn oven up to 350 degrees and bake for about 30 minutes or until top and bottom crust are brown. Place on wire rack to cool. Store in plastic bags.

Half and Half Bread Recipe

This recipe uses half white flour and half whole wheat flour. If you are having trouble getting the 100% whole wheat recipes to work for you, this is a much more forgiving recipe. The author suggests you "be sure you have enough of the essential items listed above in your Food Storage to make bread for a minimum of 6 months. Remember, Wheat is the staff of life. Once your system is accustomed to it, you can use it as the base for many a meal." Wise counsel, I'd say.

Servings: 48 Prep. Time: 3:00

- * 2 packages Dry yeast
 - * 1/2 cup Warm water
 - * 1 teaspoon Sugar
- ~~~~~
- * 2/3 cup Honey or brown sugar
 - * 2/3 cup Oil
 - * 2 tablespoons Salt * 5 cups Warm water
- ~~~~~

- * 7 cups Wheat flour
- * 7 cups White flour

Instructions:

In a bowl, sprinkle yeast on 1/2 cup warm water and 1 teaspoon sugar. Stir slightly and set aside in a warm place.

Combine honey, oil, salt and warm water in a large ceramic bowl. Add wheat flour and mix thoroughly.

Add yeast mixture, which should be light and fluffy by now. Stir slightly. Add half of the white flour and mix a little bit; then work in the rest of the white flour. Turn out on floured surface; knead about 10 minutes. (Add only enough flour so you can touch the dough without sticking to it.)

Return dough to lightly oiled bowl, cover with damp towel. Let rise in a warm place until double in size.

Punch down and shape into 4 loaves. Place loaves in GREASED bread pans. Cover and let rise in a warm place for 25 to 30 minutes.

Bake at 350 deg F. for 35 minutes. Remove from pans to cooling racks. Butter or oil top. Allow to cool before slicing. (Bill's note: That is if you can resist warm bread with Peanut Butter on it)

Serving: Approx. 12 slices per loaf. (Bill's note: I'm lucky to get 10 slices. I like 'em thick.)

HINTS:-Product turns out best if all ingredients and equipment are at a warm-room temperature.-Ceramic bowls are best when allowing the yeast and dough to rise.

-When converting to an all wheat flour recipe, adjust white flour no more than two cups at a time.

Yeast Rolls, Doughnuts or Long Johns Recipe This recipe makes light, fluffy and delicious rolls.

- * 4 eggs (or equivalent powdered eggs)
- * 1 cup sugar
- * 2 cups mashed potatoes (or equivalent potato flakes and extra water)
- * 4 cups milk, scalded (can be reconstituted milk)
- * 14 cups white flour
- * 1 tablespoon salt
- * 4 tablespoons of active dry yeast
- * 1/2 lb margarine or butter

For sweet rolls, use 2 cups of sugar and 3 tablespoons of yeast. The softer the dough, the lighter the rolls will be. The dough should be much gooier than regular bread dough.

Let rise 2 hours, or until the bulk increases 3 or 4 times. Punch down, then form into rolls. Let rise again. When this has risen up extremely light and fluffy it is ready to cook.

Bake 375 to 400 degrees F until golden brown (about 10 minutes).

Quick Rolls Using 100% Whole Wheat Flour

The first time I tasted these rolls it was hard to believe they had no white flour in them. They were as light and fluffy as any rolls I've eaten made from white flour. A sure pleaser for any special dining occasion.

- * 4 C warm water
- * 1 C cooking oil
- * 3/4 C honey (Could substitute 1 C sugar)
- * 6 T yeast
- * 2 1/2 tsp. salt
- * 3 eggs (Can substitute 1/4 C powdered eggs plus 1/2 C water)
- * 15 C whole wheat flour (or until workable)

Hint: Use oil on hands and kneading surface for easier handling. Mix water, oil, honey and yeast. Set aside 15 minutes. Add rest of ingredients and mix well. This dough should be a little stiffer than normal. Form into desired shapes and let rest 20-30 minutes or until double. Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees. Makes 3 dozen.

Carrot and Cornmeal Bread

Ingredients:

- * 2 Cups shredded raw carrots
- * 2 Cups ground yellow cornmeal
- * 1 and 1/2 Cups milk (I have made this with powdered, reconstituted milk, too)
- * 1 Cup honey
- * 4 eggs slightly beaten
- * 2 Cups white, OR 1 and 3/4 Cups whole wheat flour
- * 1/4 Cup vegetable oil
- * 2 Tablespoons Baking Powder
- * 2 teaspoons or less of salt

Instructions: Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Grease a 10" X 13" baking pan. (You could use two, 8" square pans or two muffin pans.) Combine shredded carrots and cornmeal in a large bowl. Heat milk in a saucepan to boiling and immediately add to carrot and cornmeal mixture. Cool to almost room temperature. Add honey, eggs, oil. In a separate bowl, mix together white or wheat flour, baking powder and salt. Then dump it all into the carrot mixture. Pour into baking pan(s) or muffin tins. If doing muffins, fill each cup 3/4 full. They rise nicely. Bake in 400 degree oven 20 min for muffins, 35-45 min. for cake pans. You want them nicely golden brown and springy to the touch in the center. The oven rack should be in the center, not on the top level or you may burn the tops of the muffins or bread. Honey in the recipe will make it brown easily, so you don't want to overdo the browning too long. A telephone call diverting your attention at the finish time could give you a DARK brown-- but no less delicious-- finish.

* 4 Tbls. melted shortening or oil

* 2 Tbls. yeast dissolved in 1/2 cup warm water.

Essene Bread This is a sprouted bread recipe - very old, and said to have been created back in the biblical days. Also, this recipe literally, takes days to make. Your efforts and time will be well rewarded with a couple of the most singular breads; solid, sweet, and moist. Traditionally, Essene bread was probably baked on hot rocks under scorching sunlight, but where I and most of us live, this is not possible. Baking at the oven temperatures which I suggest might destroy the sprout enzymes, but monitoring baking loaves for much longer than 2 hours is too long for me. Guaranteeing the preservation of the enzymes might require baking at a very low temperature for perhaps 4 hours. If you have the stamina, then go for it.

Ingredients:

- * 3 cups wheat berries
- * 3 cups water to cover
- * 1 tablespoon cornmeal

Directions: 1. Beginning several days before you hope to be eating this bread, rinse the wheat berries in cool water, drain and submerge the berries with cool water in a large bowl. Cover the bowl with a plate or cloth, and allow the berries to soak at normal room temperature overnight or for about 12 hours. The berries will soak up a considerable amount of water. Drain the berries in a colander, cover the colander with a plate to prevent the berries from drying out, and set it in a place away from light and where the sun won't shine on it. Rinse the berries about 3 times a day, and they will soon begin to sprout. In a couple of days the sprouts will reach their optimum length of about 1/4 inch. Growth depends on moisture and temperature so be patient.

2. Grind in a food mill or in a food processor.

3. After grinding, dump the mushed up grain onto a clean work surface. Squeeze and knead the grain for about 10 minutes, and then form up 2 small round, hearth-style loaves with your hands. Sprinkle an insulated cookie sheet with a little bran or cornmeal, and put the loaves on it.

4. Preheating the oven is not necessary. Cover the loaves with clothes, and bake at 350 degrees F (175 degrees C) for 30 minutes. Then turn the oven down to 325 degrees F (165 degrees C), and bake for approximately 2 hours and 15 minutes more. Allow the breads to cool thoroughly on cooling racks for several hours, and then, because of the high moisture content, store in the refrigerator. For best results, slice this bread thinly, or break with hands

ACORN BREAD, HONEY

- 2 tsp baking powder
- 2 tsp ginger
- 1 cup honey
- 2 cups milk 2 tsp salt
- 1 cup chopped acorns margarine
- 2 tsp baking soda

Stir in acorns and pour evenly into loaf pans. Bake in cardboard oven at 350 for 45 minutes or until golden. If bread is done, it will come out of pan easily when pan is turned over and tapped gently. If not, bake for another 10-15 minutes. Remove bread from pan immediately when done and cool. This spicy bread always tastes better the second day when its flavors have had a chance to mellow and blend.

ACORN BREAD 2

This holiday black bread must become a tradition in any house where it has once been tried! Mix a cup of the ground acorn meal with 3 teaspoons. of baking powder, a tsp of salt, 3 tablespoons of sugar or honey, and a cup of white flour. Separately, to a beaten egg add a cup of milk and 3 tablespoons of oil. Stir this gently into the dry mix, then pour into a well-greased pan. Bake your dough at 400°F for 30 minutes. Top with butter when it comes out of the oven. Serve anytime, but there exists no flavor quite like fresh hot, homemade bread!

NOTE: Pour the dough about 2/3 deep in muffin tins for some tasty muffins. Bake them for 20 minutes and serve them with elderberry or dewberry jelly (if you still have any!).

ACORN PANCAKES

Mix half a cup of white flour with a cup of acorn meal, 2½ teaspoons of baking powder, and ¾ teaspoon of salt. Separately mix a beaten egg with 1¼ cups of milk and 3 tablespoon of oil. Pour just enough liquid into the flour mix to make a good batter. Spoon the batter into a greased frying pan. Fry till golden, flipping once. Top your pancakes with your favorite syrup and serve hot!

SUGARED (HONEYED) ACORNS

Use either sugar or honey for a sweet acorn treat. Dip the acorn meats (which have been leached and dried as described above) into boiling syrup or a 2:1 sugar to water solution. Thoroughly dry them on a greased pan. These will keep pretty well in a tin or glass jar and make nice holiday treats or gifts.

BREAD, HOPI INDIAN FRY

1/2 cup nonfat dry milk
1 tbs. baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup lukewarm water

Stir and knead dough on floured board - cover and let stand for 15 minutes. Cut up into 8 sections - flatten out to 2 inches thick. Melt crisco or comparable vegetable oil in a dutch oven so there is about 2 inches depth of oil. Then drop sections of dough into the hot oil to fry about 2 minutes or until done. It's like cooking donut holes. Roll in cinnamon and sugar.

BREAD, INDIAN BEAN

4 C. cornmeal
2 C. hot water
2 C. cooked beans
1/2 tsp. baking soda

Put cornmeal in a bowl and mix in the drained beans. Make a hole in the middle and add soda and water. Mix. Form into balls and drop into a pot of boiling water. Cook about 45 minutes or until done.

BREAD, INDIAN FLAT

This is an unleavened bread, so there is no yeast involved. Here is the recipe.

5 C.s all-purpose flour (white or whole wheat)
2 T.s of baking powder
1 1/4 tsp. salt
2 C.s of milk (substitute dry milk powder)
1 1/2 T.s melted butter
oil for frying the bread

This is a good amount for two people on a weekend hike. If your hiking alone divide the recipe in half.

Preparation In a large bowl mix together the flour, dry milk powder, baking powder, and salt. Stir all the ingredients together making sure that the baking powder is well distributed throughout the flour. After doing this store the flour mixture in a zip lock bag. Use Carnation Instant milk powder and follow the directions on the back of the package to figure out how much milk powder is needed. It doesn't have to be exact just close. This is all the preparation required. when you mix the dough you will only have to add water and melted butter or margarine (the butter is optional). You will need some kind of bowl to mix the flour mixture and water. Pour the flour mixture into your mixing bowl and slowly add water to the flour and melted butter (optional), while kneading the dough. You should end up with a stiff workable dough that is not sticky. Now that your dough is made your ready to fry some Indian flat bread. Take your dough and divide it into small balls. The size of the balls is up to you . Next take the balls and flatten them out into patties Try to flatten them so that they are about 1/4 inch thick. This will make the bread cook fast and evenly. Heat up some oil in a frying pan and cook them for a few minutes on each side until they turn golden brown and puff up like pancakes. Don't try to fry bread with margarine or butter because it will burn in the frying pan. One more closing note. If you mix your dough and don't fry it all right away don't worry the dough will keep for a few days, just keep it out of direct sunlight. You can mix all your dough for a few meals all at once. -----

Shape dough into a 8x3in loaf. Oil surface lightly. Cover and let rise until doubled (1 hour). Place large pot lid on bottom of Dutch oven, then line with foil. Soda Crackers

4 cups flour 1 cup butter (or margarine)

3/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Work the butter into the flour with a pastry cutter or fork. Next, stir the vinegar, baking soda, and salt into the milk, and add this to the butter-flour mixture. Form the dough into a ball. Roll out to a thickness of about 1/5 inch...very thin. Lightly score the dough in the size of the cracker you desire. I've come up with an easy way to do this. I roll out the dough directly onto a flat baking sheet. Next, placing a ruler on the dough, I perforate the dough along the side of the ruler with a fork. Sometimes I make squares, sometimes diamonds. I think you could cut out the crackers with cookie cutters for special occasions, but you will have a lot of waste unless you gather up the fragments and re-roll and re-cut them. Now bake the crackers at 375* for about 20 minutes or until crisp. The crackers should not get too brown, just a sprinkling of brown on top.

CANNING CHEESE

While hard cheeses can be coated with paraffin, soft cheeses can be stored in jars. These instructions yield a product that is similar to "Cheese Whiz". Why can cheese? Especially when you can buy products like cheese whiz already in the jar. Time may tell if we need to can our own cheese or not, until then, my motto is "Learn whatever you have opportunity to learn..."

Ingredients: 1 (3 Oz.) can evaporated milk

1 T. vinegar

1/2 tsp. salt

1 lb. Velveeta cheese or any processed cheese

1/2 tsp. dry mustard

Melt milk and cheese in double boiler. Add rest of ingredients and mix well. Fill pint jars about 3/4 full and seal. Place in Boiling Water bath for 10 minutes.

CHEESE, PRESERVATION

Hard cheeses can be stored by dipping them in melted paraffin. Remove any wrapping from the cheese.

Melt the paraffin in an old pan. Dip the cheese in the melted stuff or get a paint brush and paint the paraffin on the cheese. Allow the paraffin to dry completely, and dip again.

After about 4 coats of paraffin, you may add a layer of cheese cloth for extra protection. Continue dipping and drying until the paraffin has formed a smooth, thick, bubble free surface. Store cheeses that have been coated in paraffin in the coolest spot you can find, as in a cellar or unheated room.

Cheeses that have been stored this way will last a very long time, almost indefinitely. If the paraffin ever gets a crack or blister, re-coat it with melted paraffin.

Bakers Cheese

Makes about 1 pound (Tastes like Ricotta or cream cheese, may be used in any recipe calling for either cheese)

* 1/4 rennet tablet* (junket)

* 2 quarts warm water

* 3 cups non-instant (5-1/3 cups instant) dry milk

* 1/2 cup buttermilk

Dissolve rennet tablet in warm water. Thoroughly mix in dry milk. Add buttermilk and mix well. cover and allow to stand at room temperature until set (about 5-10 hours). Pour into a cheesecloth covered strainer, close the cheesecloth and squeeze out as much whey as possible. The whey must be saved for use in bread. Place the cheese in the refrigerator until well chilled (usually overnight). Knead cheese until the texture is smooth. Cheese will freeze well for up to 6 months.

*Rennet is available in most grocery stores near the gelatin section. Rennet is the enzyme rennin. NOTE: The above recipe is from USU extension service.

Mayonnaise Recipe

- * 1 teaspoon salt
- * 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
- * 2 eggs
- * 2 tablespoons honey
- * 2 tablespoons vinegar
- * 1 cup oil 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- * 1 cup oil

Put everything into a blender except the oil and blend it well. Then Very Slowly add the cup of oil. There is a saturation point where if too much oil is added it will break down and the oil will separate back out. If this happens start over again with an egg or two and add this separated mess back into the blender very slowly. The egg acts as an emulsifier to emulsify the oil. If you don't put in more than this one cup of oil this recipe should work just fine for you.

Honey Butter

Makes 1 cup

- * 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- * 1/4 tsp vanilla
- * 1/2 cup honey

Whip softened butter or margarine and add vanilla. Add honey gradually while whipping.

Egg substitute-(for use in baking)

Before starting recipe for cookies, cake etc.... Combine 1 tsp unflavored gelatin with 3 Tbsp cold water and 2 Tbsp plus 1 tsp boiling water. This mixture will substitute for 1 egg in a recipe.

Ghee - Preserving Butter.

If made properly ghee has a VERY long shelf life of many years, even without refrigeration. In fact, the older it gets, but better it is supposed to be. I have used ghee that was several months old with no degradation of quality and it had never been in the refrigerator. Ghee comes from ancient India, I believe the first reference to ghee comes from the Ayurveda text which dates back a couple thousand years. Ghee can be used in place of butter (it has a nutty more intense flavor). It can also be used for stir frying as the ghee making process removes the protein solids permitting it to be used in high temperature cooking.

Stove top method:

Melt butter in a heavy saucepan over medium heat. When butter turns liquid and froth forms turn heat to low. Simmer on low for 45 min. to an hour skimming off the foam frequently. After the ghee turns a golden yellow and the solids on the bottom are light brown it is ready to be strained. I use a sieve lined with a few layers of cheesecloth. You could use coffee filters, just be sure the ghee is hot otherwise it will take forever.

If the solids on the bottom start to burn the flavor will be ruined and you will have to start all over.

Oven method:

1. Preheat the oven to 300 degrees. Place the desired quantity of unsalted butter, in 1/4 pound portions, in a heavy-bottomed, thick-walled pan. Allow the butter to melt and slowly clarify, uncovered and undisturbed, until there is a layer of solid foam on the surface, clear amber-gold ghee in the middle and lumps of pale gold solids on the bottom. Remove from oven. Depending on quantity, 1 pound could take as little as 1 hour; 30 pounds could take 12 hours or more. 2. Skim off the crusty foam on the surface with a fine mesh skimmer or a large metal spoon. 3. Ladle the clear ghee into a bowl using a strainer lined with several layers of cheese cloth. When you have removed as much as you can without disturbing the solids, skim off the last 1 inch with a large spoon. When the ghee has cooled somewhat, pour it into storage containers, then when at room temperature, cover with a tight fitting lid. -----

SOY MILK

The recipe is basically as follows: Soak 1 cup of soy beans overnight in 4 cups water. Drain. Puree drained beans in 1 cup batches, adding 1 1/2 cups water to each cup of beans. Process each batch for 2 minutes. In 4 quart saucepan, stir together pureed beans and 5 cups water, bringing mixture to boil. Simmer 10 - 15 minutes. Ladle mixture into cheesecloth-lined colander that is set over bowl. Strain out as much liquid as possible. Swish cheesecloth - wrapped residue (okara) in a bowl of cold water to prepare okara for next step. Place cheesecloth-wrapped okara back in colander, pour 2 cups water through okara. (Okara is the meat replacement) Press, squeeze, and twist cloth to drain water into bowl. Sweeten milk to taste or use unsweetened for baking.

Canned Butter

Ingredients and Instructions

1. Use only highest quality butter (Land O Lakes or equivalent).
 2. Heat jelly jars in 250 F.-degree oven for 20 minutes, without rings or seals.
 3. While jars heat, melt butter slowly until it comes to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer for 5 minutes.
 4. Pour melted butter carefully into heated jars, being careful not to get any butter on rim of jar.
 5. Add lid and ring and close securely. They will seal as they cool. Shake jars a few times during cooling to prevent separation, although this step is optional.
 6. Put into refrigerator or other cool place until butter hardens. After hardening, butter will store for 3 years.

Brownie Pudding Recipe

The first time I tasted this I just knew it wasn't a "food storage" recipe as it was so delicious. Was I ever surprised with this no-egg treat...

Mix:

- * 2 cups flour
- * 4 teaspoons baking powder
- * 1 teaspoons salt
- * 1 1/2 cups sugar
- * 4 Tablespoons cocoa (the kind without sugar or powdered milk)

Add and mix well:

- * Mix 1 cup milk
- * 2 teaspoons vanilla
- * 4 Tablespoons oil
- * Optional: 1 cup chopped nuts.

Spread into a well greased 9X13 inch pan.

Sauce:

- * 1 1/2 cup brown sugar
- * 8 Tablespoons cocoa
- * 3 1/5 cups hot water

Mix well and carefully pour over batter.

At this point, with a 1/2 inch of watery liquid floating over the top of the batter you will be wondering if whoever made this recipe was "completely out to lunch." Don't fret. It will work.

Bake at 350 degrees F for 50 minutes.

As it cooks, the liquid topping will magically move from the top of the batter to the bottom - the reason the pan must be well greased. It can't float on the topping if the batter is stuck to the pan. As it cooks, most of this liquid is soaked up by the batter. If you like chocolate, you'll love this.

Oatmeal Pie Recipe

Here's a couple of good old depression era recipes for Oatmeal Pie. They use the basic ingredients that most food storage kitchens would have on hand. Most people here in our area have never heard of them. Enjoy!

OATMEAL PIE - Preheat oven to 350 degrees. You will need 1 unbaked pie shell.

* 2/3 cup regular oats, uncooked * 2/3 cup light corn syrup (or honey equivalent - maybe 1/4 to 1/2 cup) * 2/3 cup sugar, (white or brown, your choice)

* 1 tsp. vanilla, or your favorite flavor extract * 2 eggs beaten (or use equivalent egg mix)

* 2/3 cup melted butter, cooled (or use equivalent butter powder, reconstituted)

Mix all ingredients in the order they are given. Pour into pie shell and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

OKLAHOMA OATMEAL PIE - Preheat oven to 375 degrees. This one is easier & quicker because it has no crust. My kid's like to make this one.

In a medium to large bowl, mix then set aside: 6 soda crackers, crumbled

* 1/2 cup quick cooking oats, uncooked * 1/2 cup nut meat (or just use another 1/2 cup oats) * 1/2 tsp. vanilla or your favorite flavor extract

In another medium bowl beat:

* 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar * 3 egg whites (or equivalent dry powder) * Add 1 cup of sugar gradually beating until mixture is stiff. Sugar can be white or brown, your choice.

Gently combine the two mixtures and spoon into a greased 9 inch pie pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes. When pie has cooled serve with whipped cream or Dream Whip style Topping. This freezes well.

One thing I do is vary these recipes from one time to the next when I make them.

One time I'll use sorghum for sweetener, another time it might be honey. One time I might use rum flavor extract and the next time banana. I've used dried fruit instead of the nuts. Play with it and have fun

Apple Pie

* One 9-inch pie crust
* 1/4 lb. dried apple slices (3-1/2 cups)
* 2 cups water
* 1/3 to 1/2 cup sugar
* 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

 Crumb topping:

* 1/2 cup flour
* 1/4 cup brown sugar
* 2-1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Cook dried apples in water until soft, about 1 hour. Add additional water, but not an excessive amount. Do not drain. Add sugar and cinnamon.

Pour into prepared pie shell. Mix topping until crumbly and sprinkle over pie.

Note: Either sweet or sour apples may be used in drying. Sweet apples such as Red Delicious are used for sweet schnitz (dried apples), and the peel is left on to ensure a rich flavor. If a tart flavor is preferred, use late fall or early winter fully matured apples. No research is available on the suitability of current commercial varieties of apples. Dry a small amount of a variety and test by using it in one of your favorite recipes before drying large amounts of that variety.

Herbal Medicinal Oil & Salve Recipes (16)

You must first begin by making a Medicinal Oil

Moisture tends to cause medicinal oils and salves to deteriorate and spoil quickly, so you will need to use dried herbs (like those we sell) rather than fresh herbs. Of course, you could dry your own herbs, as well. To Make a Medicinal Oil follow the steps below:

Solar Method

Place the herbs you choose in a glass jar, cover with extra virgin cold pressed olive or coconut oil and cover tightly.

Place this jar in a warm sunny spot: The warmer the spot, the shorter the time it will need to sit. Placing this jar in nice warm sand, or in the center of your garden in the sun, you will probably want to wait two weeks.

Now, you may strain the herbs. You may wish to add another batch of herbs, and repeat the first three steps... which will make an oil that is double the strength, but takes twice the time to prepare.

Place the bottled oil in a cool dark area.

Using Your Oven

Place the herbs in a glass canning jar and cover with extra-virgin, cold-pressed olive and/or coconut oil.

Put the jar(s) inside a pan half-filled with water.

Place in the oven and turn it on the lowest setting you can.

Remember: Lower heat + longer infusion = better quality oil. Most ovens display temperature markings starting at 175° or 200°. I hang a candy thermometer in the oven, placing the temperature dial just before the first indicated number, so the actual temperature is only 140° or so.

At 175-200 degrees you will need to wait a few hours for your herbs to infuse: At 140 degrees you'll need to wait longer. Check periodically: The oil will turn a deep color from the herbs as they infuse.

Strain, and keep in a cool, dark place until ready for use.

Using a Double Boiler

Place the herbs and extra-virgin, cold-pressed olive and/or coconut oil in a double boiler, covering them with a tight fitting lid.

Bring to a low simmer.

Slowly heat for 1/2 to 1 hour.

Check frequently to be sure the oil is not over heating. Be careful: You do not want french fried herbs!

Oil builds heat rapidly, and you can go very quickly from a nice herbal infusion to fried comfrey leaves.

Strain thoroughly and bottle for use in the salve.

Store in a cool, dark place.

Examples of Medicinal Oil Recipes:

Ear Oil

We use this for ear infections. Warmed to body temperature and dropped in the ear, it quickly relieves the pain. The oil has anti-viral and antibacterial properties, as well as herbs which reduce swelling and help to deaden the pain.

1/2 cup dried Mullein flowers 1/4 cup dried St. John's Wort herb 2-3 cloves of fresh garlic

Whiz the garlic in 1 cup of olive oil in your blender until the garlic is in tiny pieces.

Pour this mixture over the herbs and use the solar method to extract the medicinal properties. Let it set for at least two weeks.

Insect Repellant Oil

Much safer than anything you buy from stores, this is as effective as anything commercially prepared at keeping those pesky insects away.

1 part Bay leaves 1 part Pennyroyal 1 part Rosemary

1 part Eucalyptus

Add enough oil to cover the herbs, plus an inch or two. Prepare using any of the methods above.

Add a few drops of essential oils of pennyroyal and/or eucalyptus to strengthen the scent.

Sports Massage Oil

2 parts St. John's Wort 1 part Hops

1 part Arnica 1 part Mullein leaves 2 parts camphor oil or crystals Essential Oil of

Wintergreen

Add oil to cover the herbs, plus an inch or two more. Prepare using any of the methods above.

Add the camphor oil or crystals, adding enough Wintergreen oil to create a strong, pungent odor.

More information on making Medicinal Oils...Moisture tends to cause medicinal oils and salves to deteriorate and spoil quickly, so you will need to use dried herbs (like those we sell) rather than fresh herbs. Of course, you could dry your own herbs, as well.

The oils with the longest shelf life are coconut and olive oil. Both are very healthy oils. The seed oils are unsaturated and the fatty acids less stable: They breakdown with heating, forming trans-fatty acid which has been shown to actually cause heart disease and cancer. They will still work for medicinal oils, but are not recommended. Coconut oil is solid or semi-solid at any temperature below 78°. Olive oil will begin to solidify at temperatures around 40°. This make a difference in the consistency of the salve in most regions that experience significant seasonal temperature changes between summer and winter. You may wish to keep this in mind when making salves and lip balms. A salve made solely with coconut oil would be very soft during the summer if you prepared it during the winter, for example. The rich emollients and anti-microbial properties make coconut oil a highly desirable salve ingredient.

How to Make Salves from a Medicinal Oil...

1. Begin by making a Medicinal Oil (see instructions above), then follow these instructions:

Your pan and supplies must be moisture free.

Place the herbal oil in a pan.

Add 1/8th cup of beeswax for each cup of oil, and heat over very low heat until the beeswax is melted. If you wish for a softer salve, add a little more oil or a little less beeswax.

It is here that I add my liquid components such as Tea Tree Oil, Grapefruit Seed Extract, Vitamin E, etc.

Take a little of this liquid and pour into a container, allowing it to cool. (You can cool it quickly in the refrigerator.) This is like a jelly test. When it has set up, check its consistency and add more beeswax or oil to adjust.

Once you are satisfied with the consistency, remove it from the heat and immediately pour into small glass jars or tins.

It's as easy as 1-2-3!

1) Keep the jars out of the sunlight and heat.

2) Don't leave them in the car.

3)They will retain their deep, rich color and strong, herbal aroma and work wonderfully!

We prefer our salves to anything the medical system and drug stores have to offer.

Antifungal/Antibacterial Salve

(We use this for cuts, athlete's foot, diaper rash, infections, everything. You'll love this salve!)

1/2 cup Comfrey root (healing and soothing) 2 cups Plantain leaf (healing and soothing) 2-3 Tablespoons Goldenseal Root powder (antibacterial/antifungal)

Make this into an herbal oil. Then add to this oil:

2 Tablespoons Grapefruit seed extract (strong antibacterial/antifungal properties) 2 Tablespoons Tea Tree Oil (strong antifungal/antibacterial properties)

Now make the salve by melting beeswax into the warmed oil and pour into containers.

St. John's Wort Salve

This salve is healing and soothing for use for diaper rash, sunburn and skin irritations. It has now become our favorite salve and we use it for everything. It has taken care of Athlete's foot, all rashes and healed cuts, scratches, and abrasions. It is quite amazing how quickly things heal when we use this salve.

1 part St. John's Wort
1 part Comfrey leaf
1 part Calendula flowers

Follow the instructions above. First make the oil and then turn it into a salve!

Chest Rub

First make an herbal oil using equal parts of these herbs: Peppermint, Spearmint, Wintergreen, and 1 tsp. cloves. If you do not want to use the herbs you may use the essential oils.

Use about a Tbsp. of each oil and at least 2 or 3 cups of either extra-virgin, cold-pressed olive or coconut oil.

Once the oil has infused and is strained, warm the oil and add 1/2 tsp* menthol crystals (or menthol crystals with bees wax) to the desired consistency.

*in warmer climates you may need a little more; in cooler climates, less.

This salve is comparable to Vicks®, without all the petroleum hydrocarbons.

General Healing Balm

1 part lavender flowers
1 part peppermint leaves
Steep in 3 ounces of sunflower oil for 45 minutes. Strain. Melt 2 ounces cocoa butter or coconut oil in microwave or double boiler. Add 2 ounces of beeswax and melt together. Add strained sunflower oil and mix thoroughly. When mixture cools, add 2 tsp. essential oil of your choice. (I use peppermint and lavender) Pour into small soap molds or small plastic container. Peppermint is cooling while the lavender is topically healing.

Crack Salve

1 oz Beeswax
1 oz Calendula infused olive oil
1 oz Plantain infused olive oil
1 oz St. Johnswort infused olive oil
Melt all together til beeswax is melted then add:
6 drops Vit E

5 drops Pine needle e.o.

5 drops Lavendar e.o.

5 drops Tea tree e.o. Cool a bit , then pour into clean jars. Enjoy!

Becky's Itchy Salve (for help with itchies) : (I use a simple method, I don't measure, ;) so amounts are always approximate)

If using fresh herbs, gently spray clean and let wilt overnight in a dry place.
1 handful of chickweed

1/2 handful of chamomile heads
1/2 handful of calendula heads
2 Tbs. of thyme

2 Tbs. comfrey root
2 Tbs. marshmallow root
Cover with olive oil, infuse over low heat (never get above 200) for 3 hours.

Strain and add 1-2 oz. cocoa butter and 1-2 oz. beeswax, heat until melted and pour into containers. Just drop a little on a plate and see if it hardens enough, if not add more beeswax only a little bit at a time and re-test.

Chest Rub/Soreness

Olive oil 1 cup or enough to cover the herbs(I don't like to substitute, olive lasts a long time)

grated ginger root fresh 2 Tbs. dried about 4Tbs.dried or wilted peppermint leaves 1/4-1/2 cup

Put in crock pot or double boiler and simmer over low heat for 3 hours. Strain out herbs, put back in pan over low heat and melt 1-2Tbs. of beeswax in the oil, depending on how hard you want to make it. When beeswax melts, remove from heat stir and pour into container, let sit until cool.

*I add poplar buds to the herbs for pain and inflammation, simmer as instructed.

Easy Salve

Here is another easy salve recipe. Lemon Balm contains Eugenol which eases pain and calendula is great for all types of skin conditions, very soothing.

Most of you will remember that I don't always weigh my ingredients, so these are approximate.

2 cups olive oil or sunflower oil (olive lasts longer) 3/4 cup lemon balm and calendula. Just throw handfuls in the measuring container until you get 3/4. Try to use equal amounts of each.

Mix together and place in top of double boiler. Simmer over low heat for 2 hours.

Remember to replace the water in bottom pot if it gets low.

Strain out herbs. In separate pan or bowl if using microwave, melt 2 tsp. beeswax and 1 tsp. cocoa butter or lanolin. Add to the infused oil and stir until cool. If you wanted to make this antibacterial, you would add a few drops of tea tree or thyme eo when it cools. Put into jars and label!!!! Add the date.....

You might think you'll remember what you made, but you won't....lol

Directions

Place your dried plant material in the top of a double boiler and cover with just enough olive oil (or oil of your choice) to cover. Bring the temperature up to 120-150 deg. F. and keep it there for 4 hours. Strain through cheesecloth, squeezing all the oil out of the plant material. Pour this infused oil over another batch of dried material and repeat the process. Store in the refrigerator.

Tips: 1. Use only dried plant material. Fresh contains water which will breed bacteria in your salves.

2. Use latex or other type of rubber glove when you squeeze the plant material to keep from contaminating the oil with bacteria from your hands.

3. Make only what you can use in a week.

4. Don't make the fire too hot, as it will cause the temp to rise too drastically. Remove from heat when the infused material reaches 120 deg. F. The temp will continue to rise. When it starts dropping close to the 120 mark again, zap it for a minute with the heat.

5. Keep in mind that once oil starts to heat, the temp goes up drastically. You don't want to burn the plant material.

6. Do not cover the pot. You don't want condensation to build up and drop back into the oils.

I've had better luck with this method than with the cold infusion on a windowsill, which always seemed to develop condensation inside the jar which in turn resulted in bacteria and mold growing in the final oil.

Making Herb Infused Oil

You can use this oil as is or in what ever recipe. This method works especially well with resinous herbs such as calendula or St. johnwort. Some active constituents in herbs are not very easily extracted in oil but come out just fine in alcohol.

1 part herb by weight (for example 1 Oz) 1 part grain alcohol (everclear) by volume (1 fl oz in this case)

Mix the two together in a glass jar and let sit covered for 24 hour, shaking every once in a while

The next day mix the wet herbs with 5-6 parts of oil, about 5-6 fl oz in this case (for medicinal salves we usually use extra virgin olive, but what ever you want to use is fine) Pour this into a blender and blend the whole thing on high speed until the sides of the blender feel warm.

Strain the oil through cheesecloth, pressing to get most of the oil out. Pour the oil in a pot and over very low heat, warm it until all the alcohol is evaporated. (you can check by holding a match close to the surface of the oil. If it catches fire there is still alcohol there...careful!) Now you can bottle the oil or use it right away.

How to make salves...

If using fresh collected plants, make sure to clean them. Shake them to remove dirt then lay the herbs out to air dry for several hours.

Measure the desired amount of herbs into an into a crock-pot or a double broiler.

Cover with oil. Oil should be about an inch above herbs.

Heat the herbs and oil over low heat for about 3 hours. For roots cook about 5 hours.

Turn off heat & allow to cool. Set up a strainer lined with cheesecloth & pour the oil through to strain. When most oil has filtered through the cheesecloth, pick up the cheesecloth, keeping the herbs enclosed, and squeeze as much oil as possible from the herbs and cloth.

Add beeswax to the oil now and heat it until all the wax is melted. To test to see if your salve is hard enough, put some on a spoon and set it in a cool place for a few minutes. If your salve is too soft, add more beeswax.

If you are using essential oils or Vitamin E you can blend them in now. Finally, pour your salve into containers and label.

Creamy, Dreamy Lotion

.33 oz glycerin 1 oz stearic acid 1.6 oz E wax

.80 oz mango butter 4.4 oz of oil

(any combination of oils you like will be fine. My favorite is avocado, jojoba, apricot kernel and soy) 13.75 oz water

13.4 oz aloe

.2 oz preservative ½ to 1 tsp of fragrance or eo

Put the first 7 ingredients (liquid glycerin to the aloe) in a large microwave safe bowl. Microwave on high for 4 minutes. After the 3 minutes stir the mixture and then put the bowl back into the microwave. Heat on high for 1 minute. Take the container out of the microwave and check them. You want to heat until all the ingredients are melted (about 5-10 minutes depending on your microwave). The ingredients in your bowl will look milky when they have melted completely. Do not heat to boiling. When the first 7 ingredients have melted you're ready to mix! Mix with a stick blender or hand mixer for about 2 minutes. Let mixture sit for about 10 minutes then stick blend it for about 2 minutes. Let the mixture sit for 5 minutes then blend for 1 minute. About this time it should be starting to get thick and creamy. Let it sit for another five minutes and then blend in the vitamin e, preservative, fragrance and color. Spoon into jars.

Old Fashioned Mustard Plaster(For Chest Colds)

Note: Be careful with this recipe. I've had people E-mail me saying this recipe burned the skin on their chest!

What follows is one of them...

Hi; I decided a few nights ago to apy a mustard plaster as I had heard my Mom talk about it years ago. Well I think I added 2 heaping tablespoons of powdered mustard, flour and water. Well I now have several blisters on my chest so I hope people will put several layers of fabric between the plaster and the skin. Still Burning...

* 4 T. flour * 2 tsp. oil * 1 T. dry mustard

Mix in lukewarm water to form a paste. Spread on a thin clean cloth and cover. Place on chest for 20 minutes (shorter time for small children). Be careful not to burn the skin. Remove the plaster and cover the chest with camphorated oil or Vicks. Then cover with warm fabric such as flannel or a towel. Repeat in 4 hours.

Burn Salve

* 1 bar of cocoa butter, melted * 2 T. myrrh gum powder

* 2 T. golden seal powder

Mix all together and place in a hot area for 3 hours. Strain. Keep in refrigerator.

Emergency Candles

* 2 C. fine sawdust * 1 lb. melted wax

Chip or cut up wax into small pieces, and melt over water, never directly over flame or burner. It can be melted in the same can you're going to use for the candle. Put the sawdust in a shoe box and pour the wax over it. Mix it until it holds together well when squeezed in your hands. Pack and press the mixture into the can tightly and firmly. Make a hole with a long knitting needle. Add the wick, all the way down. Pour melted wax over the top to secure.

Tips for Using Whole Wheat Flour

Use wheat in recipes your family already likes. Then it is not totally unfamiliar and you know the recipe is good.

Try wheat in desserts first, who can turn down a cookie?

Do not feel you have to use 100 percent whole wheat. Half white and half whole wheat gives excellent results.

How to substitute whole wheat in your favorite recipes

* Whole wheat is heavier than white flour and needs more leavening. * In yeast breads, use more yeast and/or let it rise longer

* In baking powder leavened products, increase baking powder by 1 tsp for every 3 cups whole wheat flour. * Recipes using baking soda need not be adjusted.

* In baked products using eggs, separate the eggs and beat whites until stiff. Then fold in just before baking. For extra lightness, an extra separated egg may be added.

Place in a small square dish and dry in the oven under very low heat. Wrap and store. This will make 2 bars, each containing approx. 1000 calories or enough food for one day. These will store for a long time if they are cooked until quite dry, and are excellent for emergency packs, etc. Eat dry, or cooked in about 3/4 C. water.

ENERGY BAR

Here's one that I'd like to share if you want it. It is a good replacement for those terribly expensive Energy Bars sold in health stores. It keeps well but I can't keep them long enough in my pick up to really test the life because I eat them within two weeks.

Raisins.....1 Cup Dried Blueberries.....1 Cup
Dates.....2 Cups Dried Apples.....2 Cups
Prunes.....2 Cups Dried Apricots.....2 Cups
Sunflower Seeds.....1/2 Cup
Rolled Oats.....8 Cups Pancake Mix.....12 Oz.
Almond Paste or
Peanut Butter.....1 Can, 8 Oz. Honey.....16 Oz.

1. Dice all of the fruit to the same size as the raisins. 2. Add fruit and almond paste or peanut butter to a large mixing bowl and knead. 3. Add sunflower seeds, rolled oats, and pancake mix and knead.
 4. Add the honey and knead till all is mixed well.
 5. Press the mix into a baking tin (cookie sheets work well) 3/8" to 1/2" thick and as even as possible. 6. Bake in a conventional oven at 375 degrees for about 20 min. or until the top is a light brown.
 7. Remove from oven and allow to cool, then turn out on a large cutting board and cut into individual servings. NOTE: These energy bars will keep in the freezer for a very long time, allowing you to make up a batch some time before you plan a trip or have need for them. For convenience they may be individually wrapped in foil or plastic wrap.

Chocolate Chips
Raisins Or Dried Fruit Bits

Cashew Butter --
* Almond Butter -- *

 3. Roll in powdered milk, confectioner's sugar or coconut.
- * May be used in place of peanut butter.

PEANUT BUTTER

Peanuts may be ground in their raw state or roasted first for a tasty flavor. Put them unshelled, in a 300* F oven for thirty minutes. For a fully roasted taste, leave them in the oven for sixty minutes. Allow them to cool, then remove the shells and skins. You may want to leave the skins on for their nutritional value. Next, combine 1 cup peanuts and 1 Tablespoon peanut oil. For a creamier spread, add more oil. Put the peanuts and oil in a blender or food processor and blend, stopping periodically to scrape the sides of the blender. Add a bit of salt to taste.

Store your peanut butter in clean glass jars in the refrigerator. After some time, your peanut butter may begin to separate from the oil. Just stir it up and use it. You can make other simple and nutritious nut butters using the same methods, almonds and cashews for example. These particular nuts require no additional oil, they have sufficient oils of their own.

Batter Dip

1 Egg
1/2 Cup Milk or Water
1/2 Teaspoon Salt
1/2 Cup Flour (or corn meal, use a little less water)
1. Beat ingredients together in a mixing bowl. 2. Dip fish, chicken, or meat in this mixture and fry in at least 1" of cooking oil.

BUTTER, CANNED

Sterilize jars in 250 f water for 20 minutes. Dry jars in 250 f oven for 3-5 minutes. Place lids in 180 f water for 20 minutes. Melt butter over very low heat, until it bubbles down. Cover and let gently simmer for 5 minutes. Pour hot butter into hot sterilized jars. Wipe off rims with a damp cloth. Place lids and rings on jars. After lids have popped and jars have cooled, turn them upside down and shake gently to reduce separation. Store in cool dark place.

As I said earlier, this is a new recipe to me, too. My dad said his mother used to can butter, but he didn't have her old recipe. Try this, but be careful. If you open a jar and it doesn't seem right to you, don't eat it. I only put up one jar this time. If it is okay after a month, I will put up more. I just wanted to start small, because this is an unproven recipe, and butter isn't as cheap as it used to be.

CANNING BUTTER/MARGARINE

GHEE- Melt butter in heavy saucepan over moderate heat. (I used 5 lbs.) Increase the heat after it's melted and bring the butter to a boil. When the surface is completely covered with foam, stir the butter gently and reduce the heat to the lowest possible setting. Simmer UNCOVERED and UNDISTURBED for approx. 1 hr. or until the milk solids in the bottom of the pan have turned golden brown and the butter on top is transparent. Take off flame and let sit 5 mins. There will be a crust on top and this can be gently skimmed off with a slotted spoon. Strain the butter through a sieve lined with 4 layers cheesecloth or pc. of linen. If there are any solids in the ghee, no matter how small, strain it again until it is perfectly clear. Pour into hot sterilized oven dried jars. (250 degrees for 20 mins.) Wipe rims of jars and put on hot sterilized lids and rings. This should seal by itself. If not, I have put jars in boiling water bath for 20 mins. I have also put it in pressure canner at 8 lb. pressure for 5 min. The ghee will be a pretty yellow color. However, when it cools, it will be a light yellow opaque color and will not harden completely. I turn jars a few times before storing. This will supposedly last for 5-6 yrs., if not longer. Should be kept Cold. This stuff is much better for you than reg. butter and will not burn if used for frying etc. as all of the solids have been strained out and the water boiled away. Believe me, it tastes GREAT spread on toast, potatoes, etc. By the way, I buy my sweet cream butter from my local dairy. 10 lb. tub runs $16 and has been freshly made. Tubs are food grade so they are good for storing dried fruits, etc. Sorry for the long post. Hope this helps you all. PS Do a search on Ghee and read the comments from doctors on the benefits of ghee. It has been used for centuries in India, etc. Chow----

CHEESE, CANNING Found at Food Storage and Supplies

1 (3 oz.) can evaporated milk 1 tablespoon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 lb. Velveeta cheese or any yellow cheese you have on hand, I've used all kinds with good results but processed cheese is the best
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Melt milk and cheese in double boiler. Add rest of ingredients and mix well. Place in pint jars and seal. If desired place in water boiling bath for 10 minutes. Hope you can use this recipe.

Anyway Folks, I was just experimenting with this to see if I could pressure cook it. Yuck! I don't recommend it. The cheese turned brown. Like it was burnt. Otherwise, it was great. On another note, I found a #10 can of Cheddar Cheese Sauce, concentrated, in Wal-Mart. I added 32 oz. water as per the instructions. Then it called for 20 oz jalapeno, peppers removed, (I will also make a batch WITH peppers), and instead of adding the jalapeno juice I added 20 more oz. of water and salt to taste. Then I boiled my lids, filled my jars and processed in the pressure cooker for 20 minutes @ #10. My kids don't like the hot flavor to cheese but I added some jalapeno juice to a little I had left over and it was fantastic. The can said this cheese can be used for eggs, broccoli, hamburgers, hot-dogs, dipping etc... Anything you would normally use a cheese sauce for. Oh, yeah, I ended up with 10 pints.

COFFEE SUBSTITUTES

Found at misc.survivalism

In the mid 70's, there was a coffee shortage/huge price increase, and my wife and I were into the "subsistence mode". I believe we read about it in Mother Earth News, but wherever we got it, we tried roasting garbanzo beans. We voted with our feet; when coffee prices came back down, we fed the remainder of the garbanzo beans to the livestock; but they were better than nothing in the interim. The interim could last longer this time.

COFFEE SUBSTITUTES FROM PLANTS AROUND US, TWO

The American Beech Tree's nuts when taken out of the husks, roasted until dark and brittle, then ground, will make a fine coffee. Store this in an airtight container. They are best collected after the first hard frost when they normally drop to the ground. Once stored, they can be used all year round. You might have to fight the squirrels for them. Prepare normally.

Chicory coffee - remember that blue flower with almost leafless stalks that grow just about everywhere there's a road. They look like daisy's, but their petals are blue and are squared off at the ends. The white fleshy roots, roasted until dark brown and brittle, then ground, make an excellent coffee. Prepare like coffee. Use 1-1/2 tsp. per cup of water. Store in an airtight container. Use all year round.

FLOUR SUBSTITUTES

In standard recipes, one of the following may be substituted for one cup of wheat flour:

- 1 cup corn flour
- 3/4 cup coarse cornmeal
- 7/8 cup rice flour
- 1 scant cup fine cornmeal
- 5/8 cup potato flour

There are some problems in the use of substitutes for wheat flour. The following suggestions will improve the eating quality of the final product: 1. Rice flour and cornmeal tend to have a grainy texture. A smoother texture may be obtained by mixing the rice flour or cornmeal with the liquid called for in the recipe, bringing this mixture to a boil, and cooling it before adding the other ingredients. 2. Soy flour must always be used in combination with another flour, not as the only flour in a recipe. It has no gluten, and by itself has an unappealing taste.

3. When using other than wheat flour in baking, longer and slower baking time is required. This is particularly true when the product is made without milk and eggs. 4.

Because they have little or no gluten, substitutes for wheat flour do not make satisfactory yeast breads.

5. Muffins or biscuits, when made with other than wheat flour, are of better texture if baked in small sizes. 6. Dryness is common characteristic of cakes made with flours other than wheat flours. Moisture may be preserved by frosting or storing cakes in closed containers. -----

HAMBURGER, MOCK

1 C. wheat 1 can red kidney beans (or cooked beans)

1 egg

salt and pepper to taste

Cook wheat 1 hour. Blend wheat in blender then add beans and continue to blend.

Add egg and salt and pepper. This can be molded into patties and fried or used in any recipe calling for hamburger. -----

MARGARINE, HOME CANNED

Cut 2 lb., plus 2-3 pats of High Quality Margarine into a 1 1/2 qt. pan. Melt very slowly over low heat until it bubbles down. Cover, let simmer for 5 minutes. Pour hot Margarine into hot sterilized (20 min. at 250 f) oven dried jars. Fill jar to within 1 inch of top of jar. (Be careful not to get Margarine on the rim of jar.) Wipe rims with clean damp cloth, place lids and rings on jars. After lid has popped and jar has cooled (can place in refrigerator for a short time for this), to harden, turn upside down a few times before it hardens and it will not look separated. Shake it easily.

Use ONLY TOP BRANDS of Margarine. Do not use soft type, or inexpensive, or any margarine containing lard.

Stores for 3 years or longer.

It works for BUTTER, too.

That is the recipe I found. It looked a little fractured to me, so I talked it over with a few people who have put a few more pints in the pantry than I have, and this is what we came up with.

MARGARINE SUBSTITUTES

Use either applesauce or pureed prunes as a substitute in your baking.

A woman at church demonstrated oven canning and showed how she had been 'canning' margarine in jars with regular metal lid seal and it is good for a year on her shelves.

I read on another BBS last night that someone had substituted butter flavored crisco in her recipes and that it worked great...said she couldn't tell the difference except in one instance where her tollhouse cookies came out a little greasy, but she wasn't sure she hadn't screwed up the recipe on those. I'm gonna get a little and give it a try. She says she uses it in the same amount as the recipe calls for in using margarine. Man we're all gonna have major cardiac disease if we survive this...but maybe we'll at least survive! Guess that's what counts...

Crisco contains emulsifiers which are designed to give baked products it is used in a higher volume. If you use Crisco, or other shortening, in something like toll house cookies, they will be higher volume instead of flat. A pound cake will be lighter and raise more. Substitute it for direct amounts of margarine or butter.

I almost always use Butter Flavor Crisco instead of margarine when baking with very good results.

A post on another board said that butter and margarine can be stored in a salt water brine (make it salty enough to float an egg) in a covered crock or plastic bucket. The encyclopedia of country living tells how to do it also. I will be trying this and I think that you would have to keep a plate with a weight on top of the butter to keep it below the water level. They say that butter will keep a long time like this if it is stored in a cool place.

Most grocery stores sell a powder substitute that I mix with a little extra-light olive oil, works well and can't really taste the difference.

SAUSAGE, COUNTRY GRAVY

6 servings

3 Tablespoons canola oil

1/4 cup unbleached flour

2 cups reconstituted dried milk

1 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon black pepper 1 teaspoon sage

1 teaspoon thyme 1 teaspoon onion powder Browned TVP sausage

Stir oil and flour together in a 2 quart pan. Stir in milk, salt and pepper. Whisk until bubbly. Whisk in seasonings. Add browned sausage last. Serve with biscuits or potatoes.

Potato Yeast

Boil one quart of Irish potatoes in three quarts of water. When done, take out the potatoes, one by one, on a fork, peel and mash them fine, in a tray, with a large iron spoon, leaving the boiling water on the stove during the process. Throw in this water a handful of hops, which must scald, not boil, as it turns the tea very dark to let the hops boil. Add to the mashed potatoes a heaping teacupful of powdered white sugar (I think that this is probably granulated sugar) and half a teacupful of salt; then slowly stir in the strained hop tea, so that there will be no lumps. When milk-warm, add a teacupful of yeast (a starter left from a previous batch, so that it will be ready sooner. Since you don't have a starter, it will take two or three days in a warm spot for this to start 'working') and pour into glass fruit jars, or large clear glass bottles to ferment, being careful not to close them tightly. Set in a warm place in winter, a cool one in summer. In six hours, it will be ready for use and at the end of that time the jar must be securely closed. This yeast will keep two weeks in winter and one week in summer.

Nutty Pumpkin Raisin Dip Recipe
