Trump Establishes 'Sanctity of Life Day'
Becomes First US President to Attend March for Life

Tess Mullins

THE TRUMP ADMIN is on fire this week. After declaring it to be "National Sanctity of Human Life Day" on January 22, Trump announced that he will attend the 47th March for Life on Friday, January 24, 2020.

In a statement issued yesterday, Trump wrote:

> "On National Sanctity of Human Life Day, our Nation proudly and strongly reaffirms our commitment to protect the precious gift of life at every stage, from conception to natural death.

> "As a Nation, we must remain steadfastly dedicated to the profound truth that all life is a gift from God, who endows every person with immeasurable worth and potential.

> "My Administration is also building an international coalition to dispel the concept of abortion as a fundamental human right. So far, 24 nations representing more than a billion people have joined this important cause."

Do you hear that? It's the troll tears of abortion fanatics everywhere.

The D.C. March for Life is 47 years old, and never has a U. S. President been in attendance. On January 22 he tweeted @ March_for_Life: "See you on Friday... Big Crowd!"

Real or imagined quid pro quos notwithstanding, Trump is the most pro-life president since Roe v. Wade. Thank God, and Trump 2020! ∎

★★★★★
HE'S HATED
BY ALL THE RIGHT PEOPLE

TRUMP 2020   www.RemnantNewspaper.com

Remnant Speaks, Continued...

become a strong conservative, and even more so, as a result of the TLM. Even in California, I've worn a Trump cap every day since the election. I just want people to see that a Trump supporter, (unlike what they see and hear from the mainstream media), can be kind, friendly and decent.

Besides sharing my gratitude with you, the reason I'm writing you today is that from the moment you unveiled the "Resist Francis" campaign, it felt to me like a misstep.

It is too similar to the "Left's" Resist Trump campaign. Unfortunately, instead of just resisting Trump when he acts in opposition to their position or ideology, the Left resists him at every turn.

This blind "resistance" reduces their credibility. If Trump does something that is positive and beneficial to the American people, the Left should support him in that.

Similarly, I agree we should oppose Pope Francis when he is proposing modernist changes, or acting against Catholic Tradition, Faith, Dogmas and Doctrine.

But we should support him when he is acting or speaking properly, supporting the Traditional Church.

This will demonstrate that we are prayerfully discerning Truth from Falsehood and acting accordingly, not simply resisting him at every turn, as the Democrats do with Trump.

We are always praying that the Holy Ghost will work in the Holy Father's soul and lead him away from error.

Perhaps this "fair support or resistance" is what you actually intend (in the small print), but the use of the word "Resist" on the surface just makes us look like the unreasonable and unhinged Leftists who resist Trump at every turn.

Thank you for all you are doing for the One, True Church!

God bless you and yours,

Michael Bohy

Remnant's Reply

Dear Mr. Bohy: Thank you for your thoughtful feedback. The idea of our particular resistance is part of a 30-year-old campaign--based on St. Paul's letter to the Corinthians—with which Mr. Matt has been involved since the beginning. Please consider reading the following book by Atila Guimaraes, which got the ball rolling:

https://www.amazon.com/Resist-Face-Atila-Sinke-Guimaraes/dp/096721663X

God bless and Happy New Year.

The Remnant Team

Dumpster Fire Papacy

Editor, The Remnant: Thank you for your newspaper, your videos, and your website. Thank you for rallying us when we are flagging. Thank you for bringing us the good news and not varnishing the bad news. We need to see both clearly! You help us to do that. Was your description of Francis' pontificate as a "dumpster fire" a deliberate allusion to Gehenna? Whether deliberate or not, I fully agree.

God bless you and your family!

Ginger Herrington